IRISES

Iris in some form are native to practically all parts of the world. As a class no flowering plant gives so much beauty for so little cost and attention.

The following list of Tall Bearded Iris offers the newest and most popular varieties. Because our list is so extensive we can give only brief descriptions.

Select some of these newer kinds for your garden. You and your friends will enjoy their beauty. Shipment starts in early July. Early reservations advised.

Vesper Iris

The beautiful filigree of graceful branches of the Vesper Iris is studded with an almost unbelievable number of jewel-like flowers, truly a mammoth bouquet. The delicately colored blossoms which, at a little distance resemble somewhat a multitude of gorgeous butterflies at rest, with motionless outstretched wings, vary in color, including such hues as cool translucent lavender, with markings of mahogany, copper, lemon, orange, brown and Tyrian.

The Vesper Iris, which often grows almost shoulder high, has a graceful ethereal beauty really impossible to describe. It is perfectly hardy and will endure both severe cold and intense heat with impunity. This little known but most desirable Iris will enhance the beauty of your garden with its delicate blossoms in the latter part of July and during August, sometimes continuing to flower even in September, filling the gap between the late Tall Bearded varieties and the fall bloomers.

Proper Depth is Important in Planting

Peony Species

Species and Hybrids will give you a month more of Peony bloom, as they will all bloom from 10 days to 30 days before the Chinensis varieties. All have unusual foliage, color of bloom and are all low growers making them ideal for border plantings. You'll enjoy having some or all of them in your garden.

PEONIES

This type of Peony is very graceful in growth and quite different in type of flower. The flowers are single or semi-double with wide flaring petals of exquisite coloring and texture. The centers are usually a more or less compact mass of tiny petaloids, usually a color contrasting with the main petal color. Very charming color effects are found among them. Ideal for flower arrangements.

Single PEONIES

L'Etincelante

Somewhat like the Japanese Peony except center has a cushion of yellow stamens instead of petaloids. The singles open 3 to 5 days earlier than the doubles or Japanese types. As a class they are very graceful plants, holding their blooms well off the ground without support and offering very handsome subjects for flower arrangements as well as garden effect.

DAY LILIES

The old-fashioned Day Lily has undergone a transformation in the hands of the hybridists in the past few years. Now we have a great variety of color, time of bloom and forms from which to choose. Blooms from May to September. All are hardy and do well in sun or partial shade. Try some of the newer varieties. They are very good for cut flowers as well as garden effect. Shipping starts in early April and continues to October. Early reservations advised. See back cover for Collections. All shipped Parcel Post Pre-paid.
